On behalf of the School Management Committee, I express my sincere appreciation to the Principal, teachers, students, and all those who contributed to making this bulletin possible. Principal's Desk

Dear Readers,

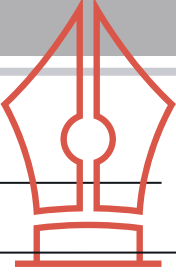

Assalamualikum!

Warm greetings of peace! Finding or selecting a place of appropriate schooling for our precious kids is not only challenging but also really dichotomous. We have very limited options according to the requirements. On the other hand, we may not be able to get it all in one place within our reach. Besides, the higher cost is a big question with justified affordability. Keeping all these the Bangladesh Mission in the Sultanate of Oman, MCBSJ and Jalan's community came forward with an excellent concept of a service of children's schooling. This initiative will really ensure to fulfill our respected parents' and loving students' long-standing desires and dreams. A dream of nurturing the future generations through an internationally accredited education, along with a discipline and character-building process. Through these core components, we can make sure of getting servant citizens as well as brilliant offspring.

We are all together responsible for creating a community where everyone can enjoy safety, security, and satisfaction, which is our ultimate goal. Today it is very much needed a sense of belonging, willingness to self-transformation, and facilitating the common good.

We are very glad to offer A-Level in the Bangladesh School Jalan (BSJ), which shows a new journey towards growth and development. It will be a convenience for respected parents and our dear students. We have lots of challenges and various stressful situations; the only way to overcome them is through collaborative efforts between the school, students, and parents. Let's raise our hands and hold together, walk in the same path of growth and development. Our precious treasure and hope are the young learners, and the strength is our dearest parents and the MCBSJ with BSJ's team who are the driving force to accomplish these cherished desires and goals.

Story of Rumi (from online)

One popular story attributed to Rumi involves a man who captures a bird. This story, found in Rumi's writings, illustrates the importance of wisdom and seizing the moment.

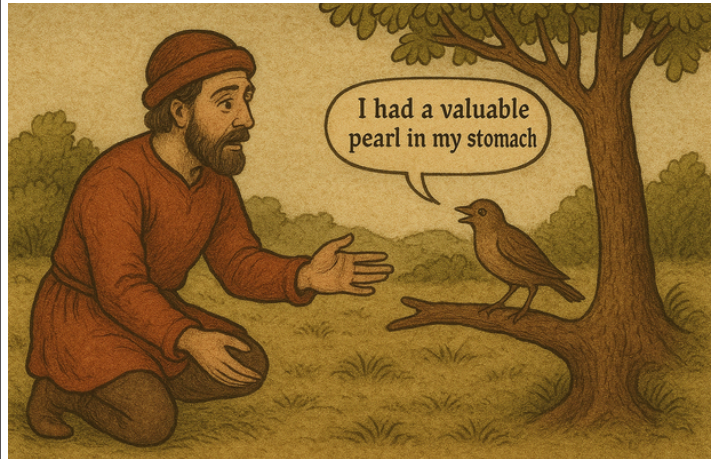

A man catches a bird in a trap. The bird pleads for its release, offering to share three pieces of advice.

The bird advises the man not to believe in impossible promises, a lesson the man finds valuable.

From a nearby wall, the bird advises against dwelling on lost things.

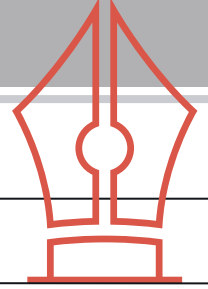

The bird, now perched on a tree, reveals that it had a valuable pearl in its stomach.

This highlights that valuable things can be found in unexpected places or situations.

The story, often referred to as the "three birds" story or the "story of the three days" in some interpretations, is a parable about wisdom, liberation, and the nature of reality. It can be interpreted on different levels, with the bird symbolizing the human soul seeking freedom and enlightenment. Rumi's writings, including the Masnavi, often use stories and parables to convey spiritual and philosophical messages, and this story is a prime example.

Kindness : A thing we should do

Kindness is nice. It's good for all. It makes people smile, no matter it is big or small. We must do kindness every day. So hearts can shine in every happy way. Kindness is soft, but it makes us strong. It helps to fix when something is wrong. When we are kind. The world feels new. It brings more love to all we do. Kindness is magic, simple and true.

Discipline : A key or a choice

Discipline is the key we all hold within. The guiding light where our journeys begin. It's the part of life we all try to embrace. A steady hand that keeps our pace. Discipline helps us grow and learn to reach new heights at every turn. It shows respect, care, and thought, and teaches lessons that can't be bought.

Step by step, it shows the way, keeps our dream alive each day. Discipline whispers, "Do your best". Stay strong, be kind, and pass the test.

The Sun

The sun is shining big and bright
A happy ball of yellow light
It rises to meet the day
And chases all the dark away
The best of friends for you and me
Up in the sky for all to see
The sun is shining big and bright
A happy ball of yellow light.

Night

I saw a light at night

The moon was up at its height

I can see it by the light

Up in the sky, the stars look bright

The stars are shining like a kid's smile

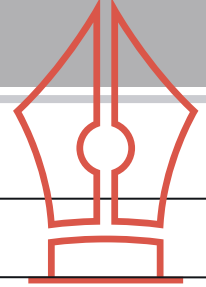

and the moon sings softly, a lullaby of peace

I saw a light at night

The moon was up at its height.

The Wonder of Technology

The technology, a wondrous art,
A bridge that links us, worlds apart.
With glowing screens and voices heard,
It brings far places close and clear.
We use it daily work and play,
It lights the path along our way
From phones we hold to care that steer
It sparks our minds and lifts our cheer
But with its might, we must take care to use it well, to be aware.
For in the rush of digital streams,
We must not lose our quiet dreams.
So let's embrace what tech can give
Yet keep the simple ways to live for face-to-face and nature's song
Bring balance where our hearts belong.

Respect each other

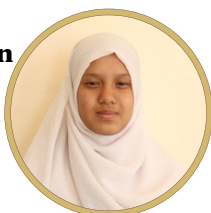

Rohit was tired and hungry. When he turned around, he was shocked to see that there was no one on the road. Suddenly, he was in a cottage at the other end of the road. He reached there and knocked on the door.

Then he saw that a small girl came out of that house. He was surprised, as he thought that she lived here alone. The girl welcomed him to her house. When he entered the house, he saw that there was an old lady also, who lived in that house. The girl told him that she was her grandmother and gave him a glass of water to him, for drinking. Rohit sat down on a chair, then he noticed that there was no one in the house, and the girl was taking care of her grandmother, without any complaint. By seeing that he felt ashamed of himself because he never gave respect to his parents and elders, and also never helped them. After seeing that girl's love for her grandmother. He decided to give respect to his elders or parents and also decided to help them in their work. After this, he returned to his home without saying anything.

Moral : Give respect and get respect from everyone.

Kindness

"Even the smallest act of kindness can make a big difference. A single smile, a helping hand, or a kind word can change someone's day. Kindness spreads like sunlight, warming hearts everywhere."

Where you do something kind. It often inspires others to do the same. A simple act can create a chain of goodness.

You need to do something huge to help. Even sharing your lunch, helping to carry books, or saying a kind word can make someone feel special. One act of kindness can make people feel loved and cared for. Little by little, the world with loved and cared for.

Never underestimate the power of one kind act. Each kind action adds light to the world, and together they can change everything.

One kind act, so small and bright, can turn the darkness into light
A gentle word, a helping hand can make someone feel they stand.

It does not shout, it does not show, but quietly helps the heart to grow from one small seed. The kindness spreads and shines in lives where sorrow threads.

So never think your act is small. A single kindness can change all.

The Humble Unity

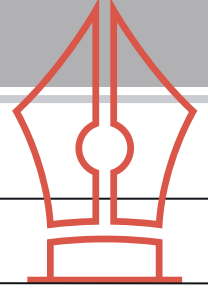

Once upon a time, there was a quiet valley between two tall mountains, and a waterfall flowed gently into a river. Beside the river, there was a small house with a cozy roof and a single window. Birds flew above the soft clouds that moved across the sky.

Every morning the sun touched the mountain, the water twinkled, and valley felt alive with peace. It was a calm, happy place where nature and silence lived together in unity.

Moral: peace and happiness can be found in simple things like nature, a quiet moment, and a humble house.

A Journey from Student to Parent

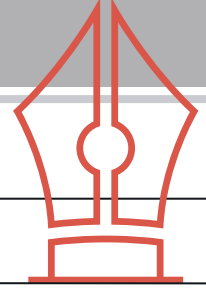

As a Student

I am proud to be an alumnus of this wonderful school, where I studied from [2007 to 2015], and where my journey of learning and character-building truly began. The values, discipline, and guidance I received here shaped my thinking and laid a strong foundation for my professional life. Today, as a successful entrepreneur, I deeply acknowledge the role this institution and my teachers played in nurturing confidence, integrity, and ambition within me. I am sincerely grateful to my teachers and this school for believing in me and inspiring me to dream big. This school will always hold a special place in my heart.

As a Parent

Today, I stand here not only as an alumnus but also as a proud parent. Sending my child to the same school where I once studied fills me with confidence and gratitude. I trust this institution to nurture my child with the same care, values, and quality education that shaped my own life. This school is not just a place of learning; it is a place where futures are built. Thank you for continuing to shape generations with excellence and care."
